TRANSGENDER COMEDIAN TO STAR IN WEB SERIES

Dallas, TX - Saturday, March 1st marks the public debut of the original web series "Just Us League" starring well known gay and transgender comedian Jeffrey Jay. Sporting a diverse cast of comedians, the first season of six episodes will be released throughout the month of March.

The new series "Just Us League" has been quoted as being "...like that show Big Bang Theory, but genuine." In a time when being nerdy is becoming mainstream, genuine lovers of nerd culture are finding it harder and harder to wade through the disingenuous flotsam to find quality content. "Just Us League" is written with a wink to all things comic book, but without alienating people who have never read Batman.

"Just Us League" is a Premier Variety production. Premier Variety is an entertainment hub for quality digital content like web shows such as "Just Us League" and "Work Related" as well as podcasts both audio and video alike.
